VALUE FISH - 2014
Catch to cuisine – Add value to fish

Welcome to Value Fish - 2014, a broad annual conference covering all major facets of the seafood sector.

The fisheries sector is being transformed by the recent developments and implementation of science and technology in almost every step of the globalisation process. At the dawn of this millennium where food safety and quality is gaining worldwide prominence, the conference Value Fish assumes great significance. Value Fish - 2014 aims at providing guidance for the control of seafood safety and quality through proven scientific principals.

Value Fish - 2014 focuses on the key network between cutting edge innovation, technology, research, policy, finance, trade and commercialization. The Conference will help the fishing and fish processing industry to attain a level of assurance in fish safety and quality using internationally recognised food safety management systems and promote food safety for the sustainable development of the industry.

Conference Themes
- Advances in Fish Processing Technology
- Safety and Regulatory Issues
- Industry - reflections
- Opportunities for Young Fisheries Professionals

Event Highlights
The event will consist of exclusive technical sessions featuring presentations and interactive discussions. It will provide a topical arena for the industry professionals to enhance their technical knowledge, share ideas with scientific community and adapt new innovations.
